How to Help People Who Have Only Their Minds to Love Can a person relate to his or her own mind as an object, depend upon it to the exclusion of other objects, idealize it, fear it, hate it? Can a person live out a life striving to attain the elusive power of the mind's perfection, yielding to its promise while sacrificing the body's truth?

The Mind Object : Edward G. Corrigan : 9781568214801

The object of the mind is an object that exists in the imagination, but which, in the real world can be represented or presented. Some of these objects are abstractions, literary concepts, or imaginary scenarios.
